

Presbytery of West Virginia's Nurture's Committee Leadership Development Coordinating Team Presents:

“How to Be a Hybrid Church”

with

Christen Kinard

Thursday, January 19, 2023

on Zoom

9:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Course Description: The pandemic taught churches and their congregations that we can worship, learn, pray, and gather virtually. Today, churches are faced with a new challenge as they consider how to minister both in person and online. Churches are beginning to build the bridge between what they did, what they're doing now, and what they will do in the future. Discover why becoming a hybrid church is about more than the addition or maintenance of a virtual worship service. Learn how to honor both parts of your congregation equally and to engage those who worship primarily online.

Leader: Christen Kinard has spent more than a decade as a professional in communications and marketing. She has helped businesses and organizations develop and implement efficient and impactful communications strategies. She sits on the board of the Association for Smaller Congregations. Digital Congregations sits at the intersection of her desire to do meaningful work, her belief in the importance of faith communities, and her talents and experience. Christen has a MA in Resolution from Norwich University and a BA in International Relations and French Literature from the University of South Carolina.

Registration deadline: Thursday, January 12. Cost: $40, due with registration
